MFA Program: Information for Candidates

Institutional Mission
The mission of Maine Media College and Workshops is to build dynamic educational communities that foster creative vision, craftsmanship and expression in the media arts.

Goals of Maine Media College
The goals of the College are to:
- Honor historical forms and practices while embracing new technologies and modes of creative expression;
- Provide a focused educational experience distinguished by excellence in craftsmanship, creativity, and critical thinking;
- Support the creation of exemplary work in a student’s chosen media.
- Foster intellectual and artistic growth, academic success, collaboration, and community involvement;
- Model professional practices and examine ethical responsibilities.

Objectives of the MFA program
The objectives of the College Master of Fine Arts Program require students to:
- Create exemplary work under the guidance of mentors that demonstrates growth in creative vision and enhances understanding of art making practices;
- Participate in critiques with members of the College community and strive for rigorous self-evaluation and growth;
- Demonstrate competence in interpretative analysis of creative work and in situating the work in appropriate historical, cultural and social contexts.

MFA Degree Requirements
To earn an MFA degree at Maine Media College a Candidate must complete 60 graduate credits. Of these 60 credits, 39 credits (65%) must be earned through mentored projects or residencies where the primary focus is on producing creative work; 11 credits (approx. 18%) must be earned in mentored projects or residencies where the primary focus is academic; 4 academic credits (approx. 7%) must be earned by fulfilling retreat requirements; the remaining 6 credits (10%) may be studio, academic, or any combination of the two as is most beneficial to a Candidate. A Candidate with the guidance of his/her advisor determines the appropriate distribution of elective credits. While it is possible to earn the required 60 credits in 2.5 years, an MFA Candidate has 5 years from matriculation to complete the program.

Credits are semester hour credits. Please refer to “Time on task” in “Standards for Awarding of Credits” for a description of the relationship between semester credit hours and clock hours.
Transfer Credits and Advanced Standing

Maine Media College does not accept credits from other MFA programs nor does it award credit for professional experience. The MFA Committee views the program holistically, as a process, rather than as an amalgamation of academic credits. The Committee recognizes professional experience in making admissions decisions.

Candidates may take courses for credit at other graduate institutions while enrolled at Maine Media College MFA upon prior approval of the MFA Committee. The Committee grants no credit for courses of a technical nature. Moreover, the Committee favors mentored learning and individualized courses of study. It is therefore disinclined to endorse surveys or other generalized courses unless it deems such courses most appropriate in individual cases. Candidates taking courses at other institutions must pay half the regular tuition costs of credits to Maine Media College.

Refund Policies

Most commonly, a Candidate pays only for those credits for which they register each semester at the time that they register. In these cases, should a Candidate elect to permanently withdraw from the program prior to registration, no refund is due. In instances that a Candidate has paid for credits at the beginning of a semester and subsequently withdraws permanently from the program, a full refund (less a processing fee) is paid for any unearned credits, provided the Candidate formally withdraws within 30 days of the start of the semester. A refund of half the tuition for any unearned credits (less a processing fee) is paid should the Candidate withdraw after 30 days but prior to 90 days after the start of the semester. After 90 days, no refund is paid. The semester start date is determined as the Monday immediately following a retreat. Requests to withdraw must be made in writing to the MFA office. In the event that a Candidate pays for any or all credits in advance, Maine Media College will refund amounts paid for any unearned credits as of the date of withdrawal according to the procedures outlined above.

Fees paid for retreat attendance are nonrefundable.

Initial Retreat and the Role of the Advisor

Admission to the program occurs at the end of the retreat (see "MFA Retreats" below) at which an Applicant presents his/her application portfolio, reel or other documentation of work. An Applicant is formally admitted to the program when he / she signs a completed MFA Program Commitment Form and pays a matriculation deposit. Upon admission to the program a Candidate is assigned an Advisor with whom he/she works over the course of his/her MFA program. The advisor provides overall supervision and guidance to ensure that the requirements of the degree are fulfilled. An advisor meets with a Candidate during retreats and keeps in touch throughout the year. An advisor also provides assistance selecting mentors, deciding on projects, evaluating credit distribution, and preparing the Registration for Credit forms. More information about the Advisor’s duties is included in the Advising Handbook. The Advising Handbook also contains a planning worksheet. The Advising Handbook may be downloaded from the College website.

A Candidate may, at any time, provide the Dean and/or the Chair of the MFA Committee with information regarding an Advisor’s performance, or request a change of Advisor if the Candidate believes he/she is being underserved and does not believe this problem can be resolved. Candidates evaluate their advisors annually by completing the Advisor Evaluation Form. Completed advisor evaluations are kept in files in the Dean’s office. Copies of completed forms are provided to the advisors. The MFA Chair and the Dean of the College review Advisor Evaluation forms to determine whether any problems exist between the Advisor and advisee, and what actions should be taken to address them. Two of the following individuals who are not the candidate’s Advisor review the forms in the event either the Dean or the President are a candidate’s Advisor: the College President, the Dean of the College, or the Chair of the MFA program.

Registration for Graduate Credit

The program calendar consists of two terms per year, each six months long, beginning with the April and November retreats. By 30 days after each retreat, counted from the Monday following the retreat, a Candidate and his/her advisor completes and signs a Registration for Graduate Credits form. This form commits a Candidate to a course of study for the coming term. All credits to be earned, started, or carried through the term are to be listed on this form, which is to be signed by a Candidate, advisor, and MFA Chair. Completed Mentored Project proposal forms and/or Workshop proposal forms must accompany the Registration for Credit form. A Candidate must register for each term for which he/she wishes to receive credit toward the completion of the degree. If a Candidate fails to register for credit for two consecutive terms without prior approval by the MFA Committee, the Candidate is placed on academic probation. A Candidate may not register for credits if he/she is not current in his/her payments to the College, or has not established a plan to become current with the Director of Finance and Administration.

Term Without Credit (TWC)

Should a Candidate fail to register within 30 days after a retreat, they will be charged a late-registration fee, after which they will be allowed to register for up to 45 days after the retreat (an additional 15 days.) After 45 days, a Candidate is no longer permitted to register. This will be deemed a “term without credit,” and the Candidate will be assessed a TWC fee. The Candidate’s deadline for completing the program will not be adjusted.

Deferred Admission

A Candidate may defer admission for up to one year from the date of acceptance. After this date, they must reapply to the program.
Full-Time Credit Load
A Candidate is not required to register for a specified number of credits per semester. During the final semester, a Candidate may only register for nine credits, the number of credits awarded upon successful completion of the thesis project. Maine Media College therefore considers nine credits to constitute a full-time load.

Add/Drop/Change
If a Candidate elects to discontinue a project for which they have registered, this will be treated as a project change. The Candidate must complete and sign a Project Add/Drop/Change Form, and submit it to the Program office. The form must be reviewed and signed by the Candidate’s Advisor and MFA Chair. The project mentor will be paid any fees owed for services performed to the date of discontinuation. The Candidate will be invoiced separately for these fees.

The Curriculum
The credit components of the MFA Program are: MFA retreats; mentored projects, studio and academic; residencies; workshops; penultimate project; and thesis project.

MFA Retreats
Two MFA retreats are held each year, one in November and the other in April/May. Retreats begin on Wednesday evening and end on Sunday morning. A Candidate presents completed studio work to the MFA Committee, guest faculty and peers for critique; meets for individual critiques; consults with his/her advisor to assess progress toward the degree; participates in a required discussion group covering topics in visual culture and aesthetics.

A Candidate is expected to attend retreats. Should a Candidate fail to attend two consecutive retreats without prior approval from the MFA Committee, a Candidate is placed on academic probation. A Candidate receives one academic credit for each MFA retreat if they prepare and participate in the discussion group and submit a related paper (see Appendix: Additional Procedures for Mentored Projects and Retreat Papers), complete and submit a Retreat Evaluation and critique notes for each of his/her fellow Candidates. These are due 30 days after the retreat along with the Registration for Credits for the following term. A Candidate must attend four retreats for credit after matriculation, and an additional retreat during which he/she presents the thesis project.

Mentored Projects
The majority of credits a Candidate earns are through mentored projects. A Mentored Project for studio or academic credit is closely supervised by a mentor selected by a Candidate. It is expected that the work and time involved in a mentored project match that of a graduate course of comparable credit – typically 135 hours. Other requirements and procedures related to mentored projects are discussed in “Awarding of Credits” below and in Guidelines and “Additional Procedures for Mentored Projects and Guidelines for Retreat Papers” attached.
Mentors may be Maine Media College faculty or qualified individuals who have been approved by the MFA Committee. When choosing a mentor who has not previously been approved by the MFA Committee it is the obligation of a Candidate to have the Mentor submit a CV for approval by the MFA Committee. A Candidate must complete a Project Proposal form for each Mentored Project indicating the scope and nature of the project. Mentors provide creative guidance and instruction, critical feedback and procedural advice on the project. Mentors write mid-term and final project evaluations. Other recommendations for project mentors are included in a letter sent to them by the Chair of the MFA Committee. A copy of the letter is attached below.

On some projects a Candidate may wish to have more than one mentor. It is common for a Candidate to choose two mentors for the Thesis Project, one mentor for the studio work and another for the written work. A Candidate must list all mentors on the Project Proposal form with the percentage of the mentor fee due to each based on the relative amounts of work each does. In the event that a Candidate's advisor is a Mentor on a project, another member of the MFA Committee acts as a Candidate's advisor on that specific project.

Residencies
A Candidate spends at least four weeks in residence at the College, working under the guidance of a resident mentor. Periods in residence must be at least two weeks in length with one credit given for each week. A Candidate plans the residency with his/her advisor with consideration given to the extent of the work to be undertaken and the scope of the project. No workshops are to be taken during residencies. Advisors help a Candidate find the most effective time for a residency, taking into account The Workshops schedule and availability of space, staff and facilities.

Workshops
A Candidate may take up to six approved workshops for credit. A Candidate receives 1.5 credits for the successful completion of a one-week workshop.

The Penultimate Project
A Candidate is required to complete a 5-credit penultimate project in advance of, and in preparation for, work on the thesis. The penultimate project includes both studio and written components. Studio work for the penultimate project must be geared toward clarifying a Candidate's vision of the discrete body of work to be presented as the thesis project. It must be carefully designed with the advice of the project mentor and a Candidate's advisor so as to address any specific concerns that may have been raised by the MFA Committee regarding a Candidate's work and progress in the program (see Progress Reviews, below). The written element, which also serves as the Thesis Project Proposal, shall be 10 to 15 pages and include the following: an abstract of the forthcoming written thesis, an explication of meaning of the work, an outline citing the historical influences and appropriate critical contexts for the proposed work, a rationale for the project describing what a Candidate expects to learn and its significance.
As with any other mentored project, the Candidate must complete a project proposal form for the Penultimate Project.

The Thesis Project

A Candidate earns nine credits for the successful completion of the thesis project, including six credits for studio work and three credits for an academic paper. The Candidate prepares a Project Proposal form for the thesis project; the Candidate, mentors for the creative and written components, the Candidate’s advisor, and the Chair of the MFA program all sign the form. A description of the Thesis Project and guidelines for completing it are included in the Appendix, "Thesis Guidelines".

Credit Distribution

A Candidate must fulfill specific requirements, academic and studio, for which he or she earns graduate credit. These requirements are indicated in the chart that follows.

* Not all Workshops have been approved for graduate credit. A Candidate should verify the status of a workshop with his/her advisor or the Director of Education prior to registering.

Awarding of Credits

Credits are awarded on a pass / fail basis. The MFA Committee grants all credits. Mentors, faculty and advisors may only recommend that credit be granted or denied. In order for studio credit to be granted, a Candidate must present work completed in connection with Mentored Projects, Workshops, and Residencies to the MFA Committee for critique during a retreat. In order for academic credit to be granted for work completed in connection with Mentored Projects and Residencies, a Candidate must make an oral presentation and undergo a discussion and review of papers before faculty and Candidates during a retreat. A Candidate must submit abstracts, approximately one page in length, of papers to be presented. These must be sent to the program office at least two weeks prior to the start of the retreat. The Candidate’s work is evaluated according to the standards listed below. Additionally, the Candidate must complete and submit a written self-evaluation for each mentored project undertaken at mid-semester and at the end of the term. The Candidate must complete a self-evaluation for each residency undertaken and submit it at the end of the term.
Mentors complete and submit written evaluations of the Candidate’s projects at mid-semester and at the end of the term. Residency mentors submit, at the end of the semester, written evaluations of the Candidate’s work completed during the residency periods. Workshop instructors complete grade sheets in evaluation of the Candidate’s efforts in workshops undertaken for credit in the MFA program. Grade sheets are submitted immediately upon completion of these workshops. Blank evaluation forms may be downloaded in PDF form from the College website.

A Candidate not seeking credit for work may present it at a retreat for critique only. The Candidate shall specify on these occasions that he / she is not seeking credit. A Candidate may not present the same work, or substantially the same work, more than once for credit.

Standards for Awarding of Credits

In assessing work with regard to the awarding of credit, the MFA Committee considers a set of criteria including: time on task; growth in individual art practice; development of creative vision; and capacity for self-evaluation, critical thought and discourse.

Candidates are not graded, however the Committee ensures by majority consensus that all of these criteria are met before credit is granted. This is accomplished at a Saturday evening meeting during a retreat; the Committee deliberates and votes as to whether credit should be granted. A Candidate is notified during or shortly after the retreat if their projects have been accepted for credit. On those occasions that the MFA Committee declines credit, the Committee so advises a Candidate and stipulates what deficiencies must be corrected if credit is to be granted at a subsequent retreat. In cases where the project mentor recommends credit be granted but the MFA Committee does believe credit has been earned, the Committee advises a Candidate if the work should be modified and re-submitted. In the event that a project mentor does not recommend credit but the Committee believes the Candidate has met the criteria for receiving credit, credit is granted. Credits earned will not appear on a Candidate’s transcript until such time as the MFA Office receives all corresponding documentation.

1. Time on task: The Candidate must spend a minimum of 45 hours on task, including time spent in discussion with a mentor, to receive one graduate credit. Project planning in conjunction with advising is not considered in determining time on task. A Candidate is not required to keep a record of hours spent on task; the Committee believes it can recognize whether this standard is met, particularly in relation to how well a candidate has met the other criteria for the awarding of credit.

2. Growth in individual art practice: The Committee evaluates the project under consideration for evidence of a Candidate’s progress in refining craft and other elements of facture specifically related to the their art forms. As this is an assessment of progress, it is generally made with consideration given to work a Candidate has previously submitted for critique.
a. Confidence and Respect for the Creative Process: Each candidate should develop confidence in their abilities, be able to demonstrate respect for their creative process and work, and to evolve as an artist independently without relying on the critical support and feedback of others.

b. Competency and Technical Excellence: Each candidate should be able to demonstrate technical excellence and superior competency in whatever media they elect to use in the translation of their concepts and intentions.

c. Responsibility for Personal Goals: Each candidate should take responsibility for their decisions in the pursuit and realization of their ambitions in making art, in the business of art, or in art education.

3. Development of creative vision: Whether the project under consideration is of a studio or an academic nature, the Committee requires that it contribute to the overall artistic maturation of the Candidate. Therefore, the project must be deemed not only relevant in this regard but of a quality exemplary of graduate-level work.

a. Ability to meet Challenges: Each candidate should possess the skills, confidence, and ability to generate and develop ideas in the interest of furthering their creative vision, to meet challenges, to address problems intelligently, to solve problems creatively, to accept and embrace risk in order to evolve as an artist.

b. Adaptation of New Technology to Achieve Personal Vision: Each candidate should develop and nurture a curiosity for new technologies and the ability to adapt them in their personal vision without compromising that vision.

c. Consistency and Focus: Each candidate should be able to demonstrate that projects undertaken for studio or academic graduate credit are integral to the advancement of a unique creative vision.

4. Capacity for self-evaluation, critical thought and discourse: The Committee makes such judgments based on a Candidate’s participation in critiques of work, reviews of their academic papers, and the appraisals of their own efforts as described in project evaluations they must complete and submit to the Committee.

a. Intentions, Concepts, Context and Syntax: Each candidate should be able to demonstrate superior oral and written abilities in the discussion of their work. This continuously practiced dialogue should adequately communicate the intentions, concepts, context and syntax employed in that work.

b. Historical, Social and Cultural Context: Each candidate should be able to identify relevant contexts for their work and to demonstrate superior oral and written abilities when discussing where they perceive their work currently fits within these contexts.
c. Relationship of Art History and Other Disciplines to the Medium: Each candidate should be able to demonstrate superior oral and written abilities in the discussion of the history of art, the humanities, and other disciplines as they impact visual culture, and make connections that establish relationships to their chosen practice.

Progress Reviews
A Candidate’s progress is formally reviewed twice during the program. The first review, the Gateway, is conducted after a Candidate earns 30 credits or 18 months after matriculation, whichever comes first. A Candidate is reviewed by his/her advisor and the chair of the MFA Committee or Director of Education. The second review is an assessment of a Candidate’s Penultimate Project and readiness to begin the Thesis Project. A Candidate is reviewed by the MFA Committee. The following issues are considered during reviews:

Gateway

• Has a Candidate completed enough credits, properly distributed between studio and academic work, to complete the program within the required 5-year time frame? Is all required paperwork completed?

• Does a review of Mentor project evaluations show that a candidate has been producing work of sufficient and sufficiently improving quality?

• Should the advisor and MFA Chair find as a result of the Gateway review that a candidate is not making adequate progress through the program, or is delinquent in completing paperwork, the following steps may be taken:

If a Candidate is not earning enough credits or maintaining the proper distribution of credits to graduate on schedule, the advisor and Candidate re-evaluate the credits planned for the current and future terms to re-align the pace of the program.

A Candidate is required to rectify documentation problems within a timeframe specified by the MFA Committee. No Candidate is permitted to graduate until such time as all documentation is complete.

Penultimate
Should the MFA Committee find as a result of the Penultimate project review that a Candidate is not making adequate progress toward the thesis or if the quality of work is determined to be substandard, the following steps may be taken: If a Candidate’s work is not deemed to be of sufficient quality or quantity, a Candidate may be required to do remedial work to be presented to the MFA Committee at a specified time. If a Candidate fails to complete remedial work to the satisfaction of the MFA Committee a Candidate may be dismissed from the program.
Documentation and Evaluations
Candidates, Advisors and Mentors are required to complete a number of forms and submit them to the program office. Program forms, instructions for completing them, and a flow chart of documentation may all be downloaded from the College website. The information provided by these forms is not only used to monitor Candidates’ progress but it is critical to program administrators in their efforts to strengthen the program. Advisors are to assist Candidates in completing these forms and in providing information when necessary to assist Mentors in completing forms.

Academic Probation
Academic probation serves as a formal warning that a Candidate must rectify specific deficiencies to remain in good standing. A Candidate is placed on academic probation if he/she: fails to register for credit two consecutive semesters without prior approval; fails to attend two consecutive retreats without prior approval; fails the Gateway Review or Penultimate Project Review. Deficiencies must be corrected by the start of the subsequent retreat, or a Candidate may be dismissed. A Candidate dismissed from Maine Media College for academic reasons does not receive a refund.

Leaves of Absence, Late Registration, Term Without Credit (TWC), and Extensions
Leaves of Absence are granted at the discretion of the MFA Committee. A Candidate may request a leave of absence by submitting a letter to the MFA Program Office and a copy to the Candidate's advisor. The MFA Committee shall determine on a case-by-case basis as to whether to extend the program completion deadline for a period equal to the term of the extension.

Should a Candidate fail to register for any given semester by the posted deadline, the Candidate shall be charged a late-registration fee. The Candidate will be permitted an additional 15 days to register. After 15 days, the Candidate is no longer permitted to register. This will be deemed a “term without credit,” and the Candidate will be assessed a TWC fee. The Candidate must pay this fee in order to remain in good standing in the program. The Candidate’s deadline for completing the program will not be adjusted.

Under certain conditions, a Candidate may petition the MFA Committee for an extension of up to one year ending six years from the date of matriculation to complete the requirements for the degree. These conditions are as follows: 1. The occurrence of an unforeseeable event or circumstance by which a Candidate is compelled to discontinue work in the program for a period of time in excess of 30 days or during a period of time that a retreat is conducted, and; 2. A Candidate has no more than 15 credits remaining to complete the requirements of the degree. A formal written request for an extension detailing the reasons for the request must be received by Maine Media College no later than five years from a Candidate’s date of matriculation. The MFA Committee shall notify a Candidate in writing of its decision and any provisions of the extension, if granted, within 30 days from the date of receipt of a Candidate’s petition.

Candidate Records
The College maintains three separate files for each Candidate: academic, financial, and personal. A Candidate’s academic records including transcripts, mentor evaluations, the findings of progress reviews are kept in locked files in the Registrar’s Office. A Candidate may review his/her academic file with the Registrar present. Transcript copies may be obtained by contacting the Registrar. The Registrar updates Candidates’ records as to credits awarded as soon as this information is available, but no later than 30 days after an MFA retreat. The Registrar updates Candidates’ records with regard to MFA projects undertaken (registered for) as this information is received. Candidates’ registration forms are due within 30 days of the end of an MFA retreat.

Candidates’ financial files are retained in the Registrar’s office. These files contain all financial information, financial statements and budget worksheets. These files are locked and accessible only by the Director of Finance and Administration, the Business Manager, the Registrar, the Assistant Registrar and the Dean. Candidates may request to view their files but may not remove them from the Registrar’s office.

Candidates’ personal files, are retained in the office of the Dean. These files contain all personal information including, letters of recommendation, medical and emergency information and any other material of a sensitive nature. This file is locked and only accessible by the Dean and the Assistant Registrar.

At this time, all Candidate records are retained permanently.

The College retains documentation of MFA Candidates’ thesis projects and copies of written theses in its library.

Documentation and Signatures
All documents (paperwork) must be completed, signed, and submitted on time. Registrations for Credit, Project Proposals, Mentor Agreement forms, Mentor Payment forms, Workshop Proposal forms, MFA Retreat Evaluations, discussion group papers and critique notes must be filed within 30 days of the retreat (newly accepted Candidates have 60 days). A Candidate is responsible for obtaining all the required signatures on each form. A Candidate must submit all forms to the program administrator by the published deadlines.

Teaching Assistantships
A Candidate may apply for teaching assistantships or other support positions during the workshop season and/or during the school year in the Professional Certificate programs. Opportunities are highly competitive and no positions can be guaranteed to MFA students.
MFA Thesis Guidelines

The Master of Fine Arts degree at Maine Media College is contingent upon a Candidate’s successful completion of the 9-credit final thesis project.

Components of the final thesis project

The thesis project is comprised of four elements: a discrete creative work, a written thesis, an oral presentation to take place at a Candidate's final retreat, and a public exhibition or screening of the creative portion of the thesis.

The studio component is to be a discrete creative work. Upon successful completion and acceptance of this component by the MFA Committee, a Candidate receives 6 studio credits toward the degree. A Candidate is required to exhibit, screen or perform all or part of the studio component in a public venue. Documentation of the presentation shall be made available to the MFA committee at a Candidate's final retreat and must be included in the copies of a Candidate’s written thesis that is retained by the Maine Media College Library.

The written thesis must contain components focused on contextual research, an analysis of process and critical exposition. A Candidate earns 3 credits for the successful completion and acceptance of the written thesis.

The research component of the written thesis should be focused on works salient to the development and understanding of a Candidate's project. A Candidate should provide visual examples, both historical and contemporary, of these works. The written thesis must contain a section that traces and analyzes a Candidate’s development. Whenever possible visual examples of works discussed should be provided to support the analysis.

The written thesis must contain a section devoted to the critical analysis of the final project.

It is expected that the written thesis shall be approximately 50 double-spaced pages in length exclusive of bibliography, notes, and illustrations. The thesis must conform to accepted writing standards.

The oral presentation of the Thesis Project takes place at a Candidate's final retreat. It consists of a presentation and critique of the studio component of the Thesis Project and a discussion of the material in the written thesis. A Candidate should be prepared to respond to questions and comments by the MFA Committee members.

A Candidate must make arrangements and successfully bring to fruition a public presentation of the creative component of the thesis. The presentation must occur at a venue appropriate to the work. The Candidate shall submit, with the written thesis, documentation of the public presentation to the MFA Committee for review. If the public presentation is to occur subsequent the oral presentation, the Candidate must submit documentation of the public presentation as soon as possible. The Candidate will not graduate until such documentation is reviewed and approved by the MFA Committee.

Procedure
The written portion of the penultimate project serves as the Thesis Proposal. It is to be submitted to the MFA Program Administrator 30 days prior to the date of the retreat at which the penultimate project is to be presented so that members of the MFA Committee can review it. Within 14 days of the retreat, the MFA Committee notifies a Candidate whether he/she may proceed with the proposed Thesis Project as presented or if the proposal should be modified and resubmitted.

Once the Thesis Proposal is accepted a Candidate must choose a mentor or mentors for both the studio and written components of the Thesis Project. The mentor process is the same as with previous projects with the exception of special deadlines that apply only to the written thesis project. Work proceeds according to the following timeline for submissions as related to the Thesis Presentation retreat:

- 120 days prior: An initial outline and bibliography are due to a candidate's advisor and mentor for the written component of the thesis.
- 90 days prior: An initial draft of the contextual research section of the thesis is due to a Candidate's advisor and mentor for the written component of the thesis.
- 60 days prior: A draft of the complete thesis is due to a Candidate's advisor and mentor for the written component of the thesis.
- 30 days prior: An electronic copy of the completed thesis is due to the MFA Program Administrator.
- Last day of Final Retreat: A Candidate is notified of acceptance of the thesis project or the MFA Committee advises a timeline to complete additional requirements.

Should a Candidate fail to meet all deadlines he/she is required to postpone the Thesis Presentation until the following scheduled retreat.

Should the Committee deem, during its closed meeting conducted during the retreat but subsequent to the presentation, that the Candidate has substantially fulfilled all program requirements but must make minor changes or additions (typically to the thesis paper) the Committee conveys this to the Candidate through his / her advisor. In these instances, the Committee will also provide the Candidate with instructions and a timeline for these revisions. A degree is granted only at such time as revisions have been completed and two copies of the thesis have been issued to the College library. A Candidate must be current in payments to the College in order to be eligible to receive the degree.

Should the Committee deem that the Candidate has not substantially fulfilled all thesis requirements its members will convey what actions the Candidate must take to correct any deficiencies and present the thesis again at a subsequent retreat.

Format and Mechanical Standards for the MFA Thesis

All theses must be printed on at least 20-lb. bond paper of at least 50% rag content. The first page (unnumbered) of the thesis is a signature page as illustrated below. The second page (unnumbered) is a title page of the style and format as illustrated below. Minimum margins: left (inside) margin, 1.5", all other margins 1"Thesis must be computer-output on letter-quality or laser printer. If variable fonts are used, the standard font must be 12 point, serif. If there is a question about the suitability of a font or font size, a Candidate must consult her or his Mentor. The style adopted by the College is the 2nd edition of the MLA Style Manual and Guide to Scholarly Publishing (1998). This style manual must be followed for all format policies including pagination, notes, bibliography, etc.

It is a Candidate's responsibility to appropriately label all documentation of the Thesis Project submitted to the Library and include two original signature pages to circulate among members of the MFA Committee and project mentors. The library arranges for binding at a Candidate’s expense.

Candidate Representation

The Candidates elect one of their members to represent them at a meeting of the MFA Committee conducted during the retreat. The Candidate Representative is charged with communicating to the Committee any matter the Candidates deem to be of importance. Candidates also vote on admissions of new Candidates through their representative. The Candidates’ vote is equal to a Committee member’s vote, but cannot be the deciding vote.

Candidates have ongoing opportunities to evaluate all aspects of the MFA program by submitting the required evaluations of Mentors, Advisors, Retreats, and Program. Evaluation forms are available in the MFA Form Book, downloadable from the College website along with instructions for completing them. The College values Candidates’ input. Program administrators review the information contained in these evaluations on a regular basis and implement changes whenever warranted and possible.

General School Policies

An MFA Candidate in residence in Rockport is also bound by policies and procedures in the Student Handbook. A copy of which may be obtained in the Registrar’s Office, or on-line.

Prohibition of Harassment and Intimidation

It is organization policy to maintain a work environment free from all forms of harassment and intimidation. Harassment is prohibited in connection with any employee activity including, but not limited to, relations with other employees, prospective employees, members, vendors, or students. Any allegation of harassment is investigated.

Harassment includes any repeated unwelcome or unwanted verbal or physical conduct based on race, color, sex, sexual orientation, age, religion, national origin, ancestry, physical or mental disability, veteran or marital status or any legally protected status, that creates a hostile, offensive or intimidating work environment, or that substantially interferes with an employee’s work environment.

Additionally, harassment based on sex includes attempts to control, influence, or affect the career, compensation or job of an individual in exchange for sexual favors or the creation of an intimidating, hostile or offensive environment based on unsolicited and unwelcome sexual overtures or conduct, either verbal or physical.

Sexual harassment is illegal. It is defined as “unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature when:

- Submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of an individual’s employment;
• Submission to or rejection of such conduct by an individual is used as the basis for employment decisions affecting such individual;
• Such conduct has the purpose and effect of substantially interfering with an individual’s work performance or creating an intimidating, hostile, or offensive working environment.”

Procedure
It is a student’s responsibility to speak with a faculty member or the Executive Director at once if s/he believes s/he is being subjected to harassment. A student who believes s/he is being harassed by a faculty member, employee, other student or vendor should promptly take the following actions:

1. Confront the harasser and ask him or her to stop. If a student feels uncomfortable with confronting the harasser as outlined here, skip to Step 2.
2. Document your complaint. Keep a log detailing the incident/s, what was said or done, who might have witnessed it and the date. Keep any related letters or memos.
3. Immediately contact your supervisor or the Executive Director.
4. All complaints are handled in a timely manner. Information concerning your complaint is given on a need-to-know basis only. Management personnel needed for participation in the investigation, the alleged harasser, and possible witnesses may be contacted and thereby learn of the complaint. A student should not discuss the complaint or the resulting investigation, except for discussions necessary to conduct the investigation and make a decision. The purpose of this provision is to encourage the filing of valid complaints by protecting the privacy of a complaining student to the extent possible, as well as to protect the reputation of any individual who wrongfully might be charged with harassment.
5. The Executive Director’s designee investigates complaints promptly. If valid, s/he determines remedies to be given and the sanctions to be imposed.
6. A complaining student and alleged harasser have the right to appeal the determination by writing a memo or letter delivered to the Executive Director within 10 working days of the determination.

No retaliatory measures taken against any student who makes a report of harassment are permitted. Any person found to have retaliated against another individual for reporting harassment is subject to disciplinary action, up to and including expulsion. If you feel your complaint has not been appropriately handled by the organization, you may contact the:

MAINE HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION
51 STATE HOUSE STATION
AUGUSTA, ME 04333-0051
Student Grievance

Should a student have a concern with the course material, structure, a faculty member or fellow student, the student should speak directly to his or her faculty advisor or to the Director of Education.

If, after discussion with the advisor and the advisor and student’s subsequent discussion with the person concerned, the student is not satisfied that a resolution has been reached, the student should speak with the Director of Education or the Executive Director.

Drug Free Campus

In order to provide for the health and safety of its students, the organization promotes an environment that is free of illegal drugs. Maine Media College does not tolerate nor condone the unlawful manufacture, presence, possession, sale, intent to sell, purchase, intent to purchase, or use of any controlled substance on organization premises. Should a student engage in such activity while on campus or while on organization property, disciplinary action follows.

Maine Media College may, solely at its discretion:

- Require a student to receive counseling or rehabilitation services or
- Dismiss a student from Maine Media College.

If a student receives counseling or rehabilitation services, periodic reports of his/her continuing participation may be required. A student must agree to abide by the provisions of this policy to remain in good standing.

Should a student be convicted of a violation of a criminal drug statute based on activities occurring while on campus or while on organization premises, he/she further agrees to notify administration. The notification, made in writing and signed by a student, must be made within five calendar days following the conviction.

Smoking

It is organization policy to prohibit smoking in all organization workplaces and buildings. Maine State law prohibits persons less than 18 years of age from smoking. The buildings on campus, including all residences, common spaces, classrooms and labs, studios, and porches are non-smoking areas. Smoking is not permitted outdoors on or near a working film or photo set, unless the talent is required to smoke as indicated in the script or indicated by the photographer. Smoking is permitted outside of buildings only at a distance of at least 25 feet.
Alcohol on Campus

In order to provide for the health and safety of its students, the organization expects students, staff, and faculty to:

- Avoid substance abuse and refuse to tolerate substance abuse and abusive behavior in others;
- Be mindful of remarks that might promote an atmosphere of substance abuse;
- Support the goal of providing a civil environment on campus.

Alcohol, when offered, is provided and should be consumed in moderation. Only alcohol provided through the school may be consumed on campus and must be consumed only where permitted.

A Student under the age of 21 found in possession of or consuming alcohol is immediately dismissed. A Student found supplying alcohol to anyone under the age of 21 the student with be immediately dismissed. The authorities may be called for legal action. The Federal and Maine State legal age to consume or possess alcohol is 21 years of age. For information on Maine Liquor Laws, you can visit the Department of Public Safety website: http://www.state.me.us/dps/bhs/melllaws.htm.

Plagiarism

The use of the intellectual property of others without attribution is considered a serious academic offense and is not tolerated. If there is ever a doubt as to when and how to cite materials, the student should talk to the Project Mentor before submitting the work. It is up to the MFA Committee to determine if infractions were inadvertent or intentional. Intentional or repeated offenses are reported to the Academic Standards Committee. A second report to the Academic Standards Committee results in the student being asked to leave the college.

Copyright and Fair Use

Under the U.S. Code, Title 17, the making of photocopies or other reproduction of copyrighted materials is controlled. Under certain conditions the law provides for photocopying or reproductions if the copy is not to be “used for any purpose other than private study, scholarship, or research.” This is termed “fair use.” If for any reason the person receiving a photocopy or reproduction later uses that copy for purposes other than “fair use”, that person may be held liable for copyright infringement.

These guidelines, excerpted from The New Copyright Law: Questions and Answers Teachers and Librarians ask (National Education Association: Washington, D.C.) are provided as a general introduction to the copyright law as it pertains to classroom use of photocopies made from books and articles.
Single Copying for Students
A single copy of any of the following, by or for a student, at his/her individual request for his/her scholarly research or use for a class:
  • A Chapter from a book; or an article from a periodical or newspaper; or a short story, short essay, or short poem, whether or not from a collective work.
  • A chart, graph, diagram, drawing, cartoon, or picture from a book, periodical, or newspaper.
  • Multiple copies for classroom use: Multiple copies (not to exceed in any event more than one copy per pupil in a course) may be made by or for the student’s use in a class for a discussion, provided that: the copying meets the tests of brevity and spontaneity defined below; and meets the cumulative effect test as defined below; and each copy includes a notice of copyright.

Brevity
  • Poetry: A complete poem if less that 250 words and if printed on not more than two pages, or from a longer poem, an excerpt of not more than 250 words.

  • Prose: Either a complete article, story or essay of less that 2,500 words, or an excerpt from any prose work of not more than 1,000 words or ten percent of the work, whichever is less, but in any event a minimum of 500 words. Each of these numerical limits may be expanded to permit the completion of an unfinished line of a poem or of an unfinished prose paragraph.

  • Illustration: One chart, graph, diagram, drawing, cartoon, or picture per book or per periodical issue.

Special works
Certain works in poetry, prose or in “poetic prose” which often combine language with illustrations and which are intended sometimes for children and at other times for a more general audience fall short of 2,500 words in their entirety. Such “special works” may not be reproduced in their entirety; however, an excerpt comprising not more than two of the published pages of such special work and containing not more than ten per cent of the words found in the text thereof, may be reproduced.

Spontaneity
The copying is at the instance and inspiration of the individual teacher, and the inspiration and decision to use the work and the moment of its use for maximum teaching effectiveness are so close in time that it would be unreasonable to expect a timely reply to a request for permission from the copyright holder.

Cumulative Effect
The copying of the material is for only one course in the school in which the copies are made.
Not more than one short poem, article, story, essay, or two excerpts may be copied from neither the same author nor more than three from the same collective work or periodical volume during one class term.
There shall not be more than nine instances of such multiple copying for one course during one class term.
The limitations shall not apply to current news periodicals and newspapers and current news sections of other periodicals.

Intellectual Property Ownership Policy and Agreement
In consideration of the privilege of participating as a student/ Candidate at the Maine Media College, the Student/ Candidate agrees as follows:

The Student/ Candidate retains rights of ownership, including copyright, to all works he/she produces while enrolled in any program at Maine Media College (the “Work”).* The Student/Candidate bears full responsibility for: (1) obtaining any permissions and clearances necessary to the production, presentation and distribution of their works; (2) ensuring that works they create do not violate the copyrights or civil rights of others; (3) ensuring that the content of their works is not libelous, obscene, or in violation of any other laws or statutes; and (4) complying with this Agreement. The Student/ Candidate agrees to defend, indemnify and hold harmless the Maine Media College and its agents and employees against claims made against them with regard to the foregoing undertakings and responsibilities.

The Student/ Candidate grants to the College perpetual non-exclusive license, free of royalty or other payments or fees, to reproduce and distribute works for educational, advertising or administrative purposes. These reproductions remain the sole property of the College.

Additionally, the Student/ Candidate agrees to follow the practices described below.

Attribution practices:

1. Maine Media College is to receive a single card credit at the beginning of each student film or video. The name of the student and the College should appear together at the end of the project. Sample: (c) 2009 Filmmaker's Name/Maine Media College. There may be instances in which the College Dean or College President requests that the College name not be included in the credits. This request will be honored.

2. The source of the material or script must be acknowledged with a single card credit.

3. Single card credits must also be provided for the following positions involved with the project: Producer, Director, Cinematographer, Editor, Music Source, Faculty members and principle cast members.
4. Credits at the end of the film may include crew members and others who work on or assisted in the production, such as locations, catering, equipment suppliers, etc.

Clearances, Permits and Release:

5. The Student/Candidate working in residence at the College and / or using equipment owned by the College, and / or locations procured by, or with the assistance of the College, and / or employing talent associated with the College, agrees to not release, publish or distribute any Work until copies of all permits, releases and clearances have been provided to the program office.

6. The Student will retain a set of all permits, releases, and clearances. Written permits and releases include: releases from all actors, extras and fellow collaborators on the project; faculty members and advisors.

7. The Student agrees and warrants that he/she will assure that these practices are followed by themselves, their agents and any other person or organization that distributes or displays the Work in any medium, including but not limited to posting on the Internet.

* Maine Media Workshops and/or Maine Media College may employ students in such a capacity that would require them to produce creative works. This policy does not govern specific works produced by students as a part of their employment. In these instances, the rules regarding the intellectual property rights of employees shall apply.

Administrative Probation

A Candidate placed on administrative probation is under a formal warning that his/ her conduct is being considered closely by the Academic Standards Committee. A Candidate receives written notification.

Administrative Dismissal

A Candidate may be dismissed from the school for administrative reasons following a hearing before the Academic Standards Committee. A Candidate dismissed from Maine Media College, for any reason, does not receive a refund.

Reasons for administrative probation or dismissal include but are not limited to the following: Repeated plagiarism; Violence; Theft from a fellow student or the school; Use of illegal substances on campus; Sexual harassment; Violation of general campus policy; Unauthorized use of Maine Media College facilities and space; Non-payment of tuition or other fees.

Dismissal on the basis of theft, violence, or the use of illegal substances does not require previous warnings or probation periods.
Fire
In case of fire, a student should utilize the fire alarms located in all buildings and residences, evacuate the buildings and congregate in the following places:

Campus Walkways
Walkways are to be kept clear of skateboards, bicycles, or other items or activities that prevent pedestrian use. A student is asked to keep Frisbees and other throwing games in appropriate places away from campus buildings, cars and walkways.

Weapons and Firearms
Possession of weapons including, but not limited to firearms, presents the possibility of danger on campus. The possession of weapons is proper cause for disciplinary action up to and including dismissal. Weapons and or firearms are not allowed on organization property at any time.

A student may not carry firearms while on campus or have firearms in his/her personal vehicle when parked on Maine Media College property.

Emergencies
Should there be an emergency, such as a fire or medical situation; the proper authorities should be notified immediately by dialing 911. Phone numbers of the police, fire department, the local ambulance service and emergency room at the local hospital are posted adjacent to every phone on Campus. Any emergency or on-campus accident should be reported to a College administrator as soon as time permits. The Emergency after hours phone number is 207.691.4258.

Computer Software Duplication
A copyright holder retains certain exclusive rights, including the right to make and distribute copies. The copyright law states that it is illegal to make or distribute copies of copyrighted material without authorization. The only exception is the user’s right to make a backup copy for archival purposes if not already provided by the manufacturer. The organization prohibits the illegal duplication of software.

The organization licenses the use of computer software from a variety of outside companies. The organization does not own this software or its related documentation and, unless authorized by the software manufacturer, does not have the right to reproduce it. Students may use the software only in accordance with the related license agreement, and on dedicated organization computers. Students learning of any misuse of software or related documentation within the organization are to notify the Executive Director or Director of Education.

According to U.S. Copyright Law, unauthorized duplication of software can be subject to civil damages and criminal penalties.

Communication with News Organizations

The Executive Director and Director of Marketing are the only individuals responsible for communications with news organizations and are the only individuals authorized to represent the organizations positions, policies and information about staff, faculty, students, or campus events.

Students that may need to have a press release done, or may have an idea for a press release should direct them through the marketing department.

The Library

The Maine Media College Library is located in the Haas Building. There are standard reference works, both specialized and general, as well as periodicals, CDs, videos, DVDs, and audio tapes on a variety of subjects. Books and other materials on the work of past and contemporary imagemakers are represented.

Most of the library materials are for research use only, and are non-circulating. However, videotapes and selected text books and other course materials are available for loan. The loan period is one week. Special arrangements may be made for faculty members and graduate students to use materials for longer periods. All patrons must sign out materials with the business office, leaving name, contact information, and, in the case of video tapes, a major credit card.

MMC students may procure library cards from the Rockport Public Library by presenting their student identification cards. Through the Rockport Public Library, students have access to participate in inter-library loan services. MMC students also have access to University of Maine libraries with a valid MMC identification card.

Non-resident students are required to establish relationships with their local research libraries, most of which convey privileges to students with a valid college identification card. In the event that a local library is resistant to extend privileges to a MMC student, MMC staff will attempt to broker access.

2. Growth in individual art practice:
The Committee evaluates the project under consideration for evidence of a Candidate’s progress in refining craft and other elements of facture specifically related to their art forms. This is an assessment of progress as it relates to work a Candidate has previously submitted for critique. This element of evaluation is reviewed with regard to the following dimensions:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Dissatisfactory</th>
<th>Satisfactory</th>
<th>Exemplary</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>a. Self-reliance and confidence within the creative process</td>
<td>A lack of self-direction within the creative process; dependence on feedback to define vision.</td>

3. Development of Creative Vision:

Whether the project under consideration is of a studio or an academic nature, the Committee requires that it contribute to the overall artistic maturation of the Candidate. Therefore, the project must be deemed not only relevant in this regard but is of a quality exemplary of graduate-level work. This element of evaluation is reviewed with regard to following dimensions:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Dissatisfactory</th>
<th>Satisfactory</th>
<th>Exemplary</th>

4. Capacity for self-evaluation, critical thought and discourse:

The committee makes judgment regarding the development of skills of critical reflection based on a Candidate’s participation in critiques of work, reviews of academic papers, and the appraisals of project self-evaluations. This element of evaluation is reviewed with regard to the following dimensions:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Dissatisfactory</th>

Letter to Project Mentors

Dear Project Mentor:

I would like to thank you for agreeing to serve as a mentor for a student enrolled in our MFA program. Your efforts are invaluable to all of us at Maine Media College. We prefer to allow the relationship between mentor and student to develop organically, with as little administrative imposition as is prudent. This approach has worked well: historically speaking, the benefits to our students generally exceed those that could be expected were a rigid structure of guidance imposed without regard for the relational dynamics involved with mentored learning.

However, students must present work to the MFA Committee for critique in order to receive graduate credit. The Committee votes on this matter at the end of each retreat. Mentors may recommend that credit be granted or denied, and the Committee considers mentors’ evaluations in arriving at its decisions. In an effort to apprise you of the criteria that the Committee uses in evaluating student work, I am attaching a copy of our evaluation rubric to this letter. It may be helpful to you in working with the student and as you write midterm and final evaluations.

While the majority of projects students complete for the degree are studio in nature, and this is reflected in rubric, you should know that we expect students to undertake academic projects that support their creative work. Specifically, students are required to position their work in a number of contexts (historical, cultural and social, for example), and this effort may provide the basis for academic projects. It may be of benefit, therefore, were you to speak with your mentee about their creative work or to ask to see some work, even if you are not engaged with them on a studio project.

Lastly, as you will note, some of the evaluation criteria involve a perspective on students’ work as it has developed over time. It may behoove you and your student to discuss their previous work to acquire this perspective, if you have not worked with them in the past.

Again, thank you for your efforts. They are greatly appreciated. If you have any questions about the rubric, or believe you would like some further assistance in working with a student, please do not hesitate to contact the student’s advisor. If you prefer, you may certainly contact me directly.

Sincerely yours,

Howard Greenberg, Chair
Maine Media College MFA
Additional Procedures for Mentored Projects and Guidelines for Retreat Papers

Guidelines for Studio Projects

In preparing for critiques of their creative work, Candidates should carefully consider the elements of evaluation set forth in the rubric. While it is not imperative that work presented for critique be in a final form for exhibition, e.g., photographic prints need not be matted and framed, the work should be finished to the extent that no aspect of the presentation would call into question Candidates’ craft. Candidates should also determine in advance how their work would best be displayed at critiques. Program administrators will make every effort possible to accommodate Candidates’ requests in this regard provided that they are made well enough in advance of the retreat.

Candidates presenting screenplays or treatments should likewise consider how these would best be received and make arrangements accordingly with program administrators. Copies of screenplays and treatments must be sent to the program office no later than two weeks prior to the start of the retreat at which they will be critiqued. Candidates should bear in mind, however, that faculty may have many documents to read and so it may behoove Candidates to forward their screenplays at the earliest date possible. A “White Paper” regarding screenplays and treatments is attached.

Guidelines for Academic Projects

Academic papers meriting three credits must reflect substantial efforts in both research and writing. Candidates’ compositions should be of a superior quality commensurate with that of any other graduate-level program and all submissions are to include proper standardized footnoting as warranted. Research bibliographies should include a minimum of ten books or scholarly articles. Papers should be approximately eighteen pages in length (minimum, double-spaced, 12-point text, excluding illustrations). All papers should include a reflective component addressing the impact of the research and writing on Candidates’ creative work. While appropriate topics are many, students, mentors, and advisors ought to bear in mind, when selecting topics for research, the College’s requirements that all Candidates be able to place themselves within historical and ideological contexts by the time of graduation from the MFA program.

Requirements

Copies of all papers to be presented for credit must be sent to the program office at least two weeks prior to the start of the retreat at which they will be presented and be available at the time of the retreat for review by MFA Committee. Candidates must submit to the program office, abstracts of papers, approximately one page in length, at least two weeks prior to the start of the retreat at which these papers are to be presented.

Request

Program administrators request that copies of bibliographies be provided to the library.
upon completion of projects and awarding of credit as these bibliographies may be of interest to other Candidates researching similar topics.

Recommendations
The following timeline recommendations are offered as guidance, to keep Candidates on track and on schedule:

30 days (one month) from start of term – anticipated bibliographies and other research needs provided to mentors and advisors;

60 days (two months) from start of term - annotated bibliographies (a paragraph or two summarizing each book or article) provided to the mentors;

90 days (three months) from start of term - outlines to be provided to mentors;

120 days (four months) from start of term - rough draft of paper provided to mentors;

140 days (four months, three weeks) from start of term - final draft provided to mentors;

160 days (approximately three weeks prior to retreat) from start of term - final papers including all revisions provided to mentors

Guidelines for Retreat Papers

Candidates earn one academic credit called a “retreat credit” by completing readings assigned by the MFA Chair, participating in related group discussions at retreats, and writing papers in response to the readings and discussions. Papers are to be approximately five pages in length. Discussion group readings typically focus in areas of visual culture, aesthetics, and critical theory. The readings concern issues impacting the broader culture and the practice of art in general, i.e., are not specific to any one medium.
Candidates must integrate the contents of the readings and discussion group in their writing and relate these to their own efforts in the arts. Candidates must earn four retreat credits. The MFA Chair provides written evaluations of the papers Candidates write.
Candidates not seeking retreat credit may submit papers for review. The MFA Chair moderates discussion.

This component of the curriculum serves a number of functions: (1) introducing Candidates to current ideas and significant figures in the areas of cultural studies and theory, (2) providing practice in analyzing the material and making connections between the ideas presented and discussed and their studio efforts as will ultimately be required in greater breadth and depth in the theses, and (3) identifying any challenges Candidates may face related to conceptualization and writing that it may be addressed as early as possible.
Given the diagnostic aspect of this assignment, program administrators expect that Candidates will not only read the specified material and actively participate in the group discussion, but will also engage in substantial research on their own in preparation for writing the paper. Administrators believe that this work appropriately involves Candidates’ efforts in formulating significant questions leading to deeper understandings of the issues. In other words, Candidates should not expect that the MFA Chair would provide them with a list of questions to answer. Candidates should plan to spend at least 45 clock hours completing the readings, researching, and writing the papers.
